Dear Landowner,

This letter is to inform you that the volunteers of South Jersey Land & Water Trust and students from Rowan University and Gloucester County College will be surveying streams in Gloucester and upper Salem counties this year. The purpose of the survey is to gather data on the condition of waterways and invasive species populations in Gloucester and Salem Counties. May I have your permission to access the stream through your land?

My survey will consist of visual examination of the stream and photographing it, plus identification of species along it.

I assure you that no disruption of your property will occur in any way through this project, or by permitting access. Also, the New Jersey Liability Law specifically exempts landowners from liability for any volunteer on the property.

If you would like additional information about the Stream Assessment project or any other matter, please contact Christine Nolan at the South Jersey Land & Water Trust at 856-881-2269 or email her at sjwatersheds@verizon.net.

Sincerely,
